A PUBLISHED COMMUNITY NEWSPAPER

Ashley Del Rio, a Miller School student shows her teacher her card she made for other children who have heart problems and will help out with the mural project. Dwight Frankenhouser, far right, helps put a base coat on a panel that was later painted by the children.
